

Estates

About this resource: if you need help finding a law firm that provides legal estate services, this is a list of provincial/territorial law societies referral service providers. These organizations can help refer you to the appropriate type of law firms that can support with estate planning.

If your loved one lived on reserve at the time of their death, and you need help getting an estate executor: you can reach out to Indigenous Services Canada who can appoint an executor and support you through other necessary processes. Please email Estate Services for support at aadnc.estates-successions.aandc@canada.ca
